This presentation explores the use of 7000 Languages software as a tool for second language acquisition in Kickapoo language revitalization efforts. By integrating the interactive activities available through 7000 languages, it has been possible to supplement Kickapoo Group mentor-apprentice sessions that enrich the second language acquisition experience for Kickapoo apprentice learners. The talk will give practical insights into how 7000 languages provides a free service that enhances immersion-based language acquisition, facilitates structured practice, and supports the broader goals of creating proficient new second language speakers. The talk will also highlight the adaptability of technology in revitalizing endangered languages while preserving traditional learning methods.
